

Future Leaders in Public Service Internship Program

Our nation's current and future challenges make it imperative that government identify, recruit and retain the next generation of public servants.

Executive branch agencies are working to address this issue by developing paid internship programs that provide students with valuable work experience, an expanded professional network and a better understanding of the impact of public service.

The Future Leaders in Public Service Internship Program supports this critical work. Managed by the Partnership for Public Service, the program offers students the opportunity to apply their educational training to federal service and brings diverse young talent into government. Undergraduate, graduate and professional students from across all academic disciplines are welcome to apply.

The Future Leaders program offers numerous opportunities for candidates to pursue. Explore the available opportunities for Summer 2025 below. Candidates may only apply to one opportunity per application cycle.

As of November 2023, 7% of the full-time federal workforce is under the age of 30.

Applications to join the program's Summer 2025 cohort are now open through November 22, 2024. Apply today at <https://gogovernment.org/fellowship/future-leaders-in-public-service-internship-program/>

FUTURE LEADERS IN PUBLIC SERVICE

The Future Leaders in Public Service Internship Program is an exciting opportunity for students of all majors to gain professional experience in the federal government. Since 2022, the program leads diverse young talent to government and offers students the opportunity to apply their educational training to work in a federal agency. Candidates select two career tracks that align most closely with their interests and skills, listed below:

- Data Science
- Government Contracting and Acquisition
- Integrated Prevention (graduate students only)
- Liberal Arts
- Public Administration
- Public Interest Technology & AI
- Science, Mathematics and Engineering

---

HAROLD W. ROSENTHAL FELLOWSHIP IN INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Established in 1977 to honor the memory of Harold Rosenthal, a Senate staff member who was a victim of a terrorist act while on official duty at age 29, the Rosenthal Fellowship is a prestigious program that offers our country's most outstanding and civic-minded graduate students in international affairs the opportunity to intern at a congressional or executive branch office for the summer. Over the years, fellows have interned at the State Department, Office of the Secretary of Defense for Policy, and Executive Office of the President, working to solve some of our biggest national and global challenges.

Applications to join the program's Summer 2025 cohort are now open through November 22, 2024.

Apply today at <https://gogovernment.org/fellowship/future-leaders-in-public-service-internship-program/>